b. Stated he had just finished reading [redacted] report on his recent trip, and noted the comment contained therein on the necessity of submitting token monthly reports when actually the reporting officer has nothing significant to say. The Director said he was aware of this, however, he would like to see the instructions once more to ensure that this is made clear, noting it might be necessary to revise the notice again. He also said as far as he was personally concerned, the Monthly Letters were of great benefit.
